

Composer Performer Historian
WILLIAM ZEITLER
Presents the Glass Armonica

---

Concert Description

A premier composer of today, William Zeitler has the incredible gift to translate the search for truth and our journey toward self-discovery into his music. Reveling in the wonders of the Cosmos, his Music of the Spheres portrays the soul's journey from Earth into the realm of God. His compositions take us from the grandeur of the mythical land of Atlantis to the trials and tribulations of the search for the grail and the wisdom we are all seeking. He takes us on these travels using a rare musical instrument called the glass armonica. A concert experience you will not soon forget. Hear William Zeitler and his devotion to the instrument invented by Benjamin Franklin as he performs his music composed for the Glass Armonica!
